To the Graduating class of 2003:

When we first entered the school everything seemed so vast. We were surrounded by endless hallways that would hold the key to our future. Immeasurable swarms of people crowded these hallways, but there always seemed to be a friendly face. As the years progressed, the school did not seem so large; we felt as though we were part of a family. Attending school dances and sporting events gave us a sense of unity, these are the things that we will never forget. We may not recall some of what we were taught in class, but what we shared as a school community will be forever impressed upon our hearts. Seniors, just remember the words spoken by Natalie Bernot, "life is full of people who will make you laugh, cry, smile until your face hurts, and so happy that you think you'll burst. But the ones who leave their footprints on your soul are the ones that keep your life going". Take what you can from these past four years, for these will be the experiences and people that will leave you with lasting impressions.

Mr. Barry

2003 Yearbook Dedication

To the average student he is known as Mr. Barry, but to those closest to him he is referred to as B-dog or Rosebud. William Barry was born on an air force base in San Antonio, Texas on July 19, 1969 which he boasts as “the day before we landed on the moon”.

Mr. Barry grew up in Andover, Connecticut and graduated from East Catholic High School. After high school he began to further his education by enrolling at Western Connecticut where he received a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science. From there he attended Sacred Heart University, where he earned his Masters and sixth year Degree in Education. Mr. Barry is currently involved in an elite program called The Learned Society that allows him to attend Lancaster University in England where he is working towards his Ph.D. in Educational Research.

Before joining the South Windsor High School staff, Mr. Barry was an eighth grade teacher at East Lyme Middle School. Although he loved teaching and eventually hopes to become a professor, he was searching for a bigger challenge. This drive led him to administration here at South Windsor. While at school Mr. Barry has many roles, but he always manages to make time for the students.

Mr. Barry's favorite part of South Windsor High School is the people and the energy. He says being the Assistant Principal is “a rush.” When asked what about South Windsor has left a lasting impression on him, he quickly responded that he has been impressed with the amount of heart that our school has. He has been delighted with the amount of student volunteer work and how we do community work all the time to help those in need.

Although he is an Assistant Principal, he does not see himself as anyone's boss. To him everyone is equal. In fact he is more like the students than most people can imagine. Mr. Barry not only studies a lot for his Ph.D., but he also enjoys playing men's hockey, fly fishing, mountain biking, reading “like crazy”, watching the Discovery channel, and going to a lot of concerts. Above all he loves hanging out with his lovely wife and two wonderful children. Just like us he has had a most embarrassing moment here at South Windsor High School. He would not spill the details but he said, “it involves a meeting...my pants ripping...and me not knowing it”. This happened his first year here and he did not realize that his pants had ripped until after the meeting, which helped him explain why his colleagues were laughing during his presentation.

The students here at South Windsor High School would like to say thank you for being a great mentor and friend. We are proud to dedicate this year's Centurion Yearbook to Mr. William Barry.

Poetry by Kathy Marulanda

We're all on a quest to answer the biggest question on our life test once you find it you know you are truly blessed.
Something words can't explain
you can't define it even with the smartest brain.
It's something that everyone tries to obtain and even harder to sustain.
The remedy to all our problems is where you find your angel from above.
You've answered life's question
when you have found the one you love.

Poetry by Jordan Robinson

They say every little thing is supposed to count.
They were wrong.

They say we take everything for granted.
They were wrong.

They think no one these days can get along.
But everyone knows in their own hearts
Hate does not belong.

So cherish every moment, every memory.
Make the best of what you've got
Open your eyes and see.

Everyone has got a plan to live the way they want
Don't stop people from living their dreams because it's not what you've got.

So remember all the good things, never focus on the bad.
Cherish every memory and love every moment you've had.

What's your most embarrassing moment?

Along with our memories of our friends, classes, and teachers, there are moments that we will look back on and laugh. These moments are our most embarrassing moments. Whether we like to admit it or not, we all have them. At the time, we get red in the face and try to change the subject. However, they make great stories afterwards.

Joanna Doe remembers a time when she and her friend were walking home from school one day. "I saw my cousin," she said, "so I waved him down so he could drive us home. Well, the guy pulls over, and it wasn't my cousin! He asked me what my problem was and drove away. That was embarrassing."

Dan Siegel recalls, "At lunch one time, my friend was yelled at for making a huge mess in the cafeteria. As she was cleaning up, she happened to spill juice all over the person that yelled at her. It was really funny."

Caroline Golino looked back on a friend's funny story. "One time, my friend had forgotten her backpack on the bus in the morning. She didn't want to be late for class, so as she came into the school, she ran up the stairs. She happened to slip, and fell down the whole flight of stairs, knocking over two people! She told me that all she said was 'whoops,' and walked away."

Yaya Vu remembered, "One time, I reached for the door handle and missed it. Then I walked into the door. I didn't mean to, I swear! I must've been dating then."

What stories do you remember from this year that made your face turn a bright shade of red? It's stories like these that make our memories worthwhile.

Just because this embarrassed girl was willing to tell her story, it doesn't mean she is willing to show her face.

Ms. Koehler prepares the Alphabetron Solar System by hanging up a planet named Kewpie. Above her head is a smoke detector, better known as a Nebula in the Alphabetron Solar System.

Reaching Into the Stars

The freshmen in Ms. Koehler's Earth Science class have their heads lost in space. No, it's not because they're bored. In fact, these students are 36 light-years away in the fictional Alphabetron Solar System. Upon walking into their class one day, they discovered ten styrofoam planets hanging from the ceiling, all varying in appearance from mossy surfaces to wooded textures. Their assignment: to indirectly observe their assigned planet. As a class team, students gave more meaning to the features of a once-dull ceiling. Sprinklers became comets, the lights were asteroid belts, and one vent a worm hole while the other was a black hole. Even a stain on the ceiling became a gaseous cloud! In pairs, students named their planets in wacky names like Effriti and Adularia. All of these planets were located around a central sun, the star Vega. To begin this project students mapped out the solar system that was above their heads onto paper. It seemed simple at first, but every measurement was based according to their triangulation calculations. Students used meter sticks, string, and their class-made protractor to find distances between planets in their created standardized unit, the VU (Vega Unit). They also found the angles between planets with the sun at a vertex. After each pair observed their planet's features, students made three-dimensional creatures that would be able to survive in that planet's environment. Ms. Koehler designed this project so that students could see how real-life NASA teams indirectly observe planets that they cannot reach. Ms. Koehler explained, "Science is trying to figure out what is in the natural world." As for these students, they had an out-of-this-world time, literally.

Cribbage Club

Cribbage, invented in the 17th century, is usually played in English pubs for a small sum. The objective is to be the first to score 61 points accumulated over several deals. Points are scored mainly for combinations of cards either occurring during the play, occurring in a player's hand, or in the cards discarded before the play, which form the "crib." It is a game where experience counts for a great deal, yet luck, of course, plays a large part.

Back on Track

The 2002 lacrosse season was a success with a 10-7 record. This is a major improvement from last years 4-12 record. After converting over to a higher league just a couple of years ago they made a great adjustment and Coach Graham got them back on track. They lost some key players to graduation, however, they have many returning that will continue the success of the winning seasons. Craig Cormier said, "We will have a lot of experienced seniors next season which is always a positive." They hope next year to advance in the state tournament and to get a league title. We expect big things in the 2003 season and we are anticipating a positive outcome. No matter what happens next year we know the 'cats will give it their all every game and it will be an exciting team to watch.

A Season of Determination

The Bobcats had seven returning seniors, which gave them the experience they needed to make the season successful. The scores did not reflect their determination and heart throughout the season. They remained confident in their abilities to play the sport well. The girls took on a more challenging season than previous years in order to improve their game. Teams such as Greenwich and Longmeadow were not normally in their league, but South Windsor stayed strong despite the opponents' elite stick skills. The season was a learning experience for each and every player but the amount of team unity held the team together. In the hope of creating a stronger, quicker and faster team in the future, the Bobcats started weight training during the off season. The addition of Coach Kirkpatrick as the assistant coach, also elevated the level of play. With the returning seniors for next year, they hope to raise the bar yet again.

A Upward Battle

The baseball season for the Bobcats was a disappointing one to many people. Even though they finished the season at 10-11 and a trip to the state tournament, this wasn't the usual Bobcat team which has been much more successful in the past. However the team went through a lot, losing some key players during the season for academic and personal reasons. On the brighter side they have some good returning starters coming back this season that played key roles in many of the games last year. The starters returning for the 2003 season should contribute greatly to a successful record.

Improvement

The Bobcats have improved drastically compared to their last season. Coming back from a rough previous year, the girls were determined to win, and they basically succeeded. The team had its ups and downs, but once it came to playing a game, each and every player helped to execute a win. According to senior Biz Lassman, "Softball was one of the places where I felt closest to my friends," which clearly states the strong team unity they still had even when all the bumps in the road were hit. The girls also had to adjust to the replacement of previous coach, Grady, which gave them a disadvantage because of the different coaching techniques. But the girls are resilient and immediately bounced back into their norm. With several seniors returning, the team will have the experience and determination to continue winning.

Continued Success

The Bobcats started the season with a bang consisting of four straight wins. With big wins over Enfield, the Bobcats were guaranteed a successful season. According to Tyler Havens, few players will return for the 2003 season. It's all up to the underclassmen to bring their game up to the next level to ensure a successful winning season. With skill, determination and dedication to the team, it is inevitable that the boys will have another great season in 2003.

A Year of Determination

The golf team faced a bit of adversity in the '02 season. In Coach Russo's first year as head coach, the Cats had ten straight conference wins in their quest for the conference championship. When talking about the team, Coach Russo remarked, "We are a very young team with no experience." Coach Russo hopes that with some experience under everybody's belt, the golf team will return to their previous status as one of the top five teams in the state. With two key players returning for the '03 season, Captain Brian House and All Conference Chris Byrka, the golf team is building a core for success. The team looks forward to returning to conference domination in their next season as well as competing in the State Tournament.

A Season of Rebuilding

The South Windsor tennis program is a growing team. Even though the boys' and girls' seasons did not go as they wished they still had a great time. Mark Pepin from the boys' team commented, "This was a rebuilding year for us, this upcoming season we have many returning players and plan to be a top contender in the CCC East." The boys' team went 6-11 with big wins over Southington, East Hartford, and Windham. The girls' team went 8-8 with big wins over Southington, Rockville, and Conard. Overall, the boys' and girls' teams had a lot of fun and are really looking forward to the 2003 season. The boys are especially looking forward to getting a win over the school rival Rockville. Coach Hermes' goal for next season is to ensure that all players respond in a mature way to the demands of a high school sport. From the girls' team, Coach Rizzutto's hopes to go to the State Tournament for the third consecutive season.

Boys' Soccer

A Learning Experience

The boys' soccer season was a struggle with a 0-14-2 record. The team had to encounter some huge change with a new varsity coach, Coach St. Jean. It is always hard trying to get used to a new coach but that was only a minor part of the problem. The team just could not find a rhythm this season. On the brighter side, they did win the league Sportsmanship Award. It was also a very young and inexperienced team with only three seniors. They will miss those three seniors next season but the team can only get better from here. If the players from this year return and can stay together they have a good chance at a more successful season next year. We are looking forward to seeing how their work in the off season pays off, and how the Bobcats respond in 2003 to turn this program around.

Girls' Soccer

Strong Finish

The Bobcats had nine returning seniors, giving the team the experience and leadership needed to continue a successful season. Although the season started with a rough record, the girls finished off the season as Conference Champs and Semi-Finalists in the State Tournament. The team began the season with a 1-2 record, and according to the Journal Inquirer it was the worst start in the 10 years that Melissa Morgan-Hostetler has coached at South Windsor. The article sparked the determination of each player on the team and from then on they won the next 15 games, and carried their success through to the State Tournament. The girls won their first game against Hall 2-1, and then continued to the Quarterfinals against Simsbury and won 1-0. According to Annette Krasnicki "It was one of the biggest accomplishments of the season, that game should have been the finals of the State Tournament." The Semi-finals was a tough loss for the girls. They played 100 minutes of their strongest soccer and continued on to penalty kicks. Unfortunately they did not succeed. Fairfield and Southington continued on to the finals and were named co-champions. According to the Bobcats, "We are tri-champions!"

The CCC East Conference Champions...Again

The Bobcat football team completed another outstanding season. With back to back League Championships, the Bobcats are starting to create a dynasty in the CCC East. The Cats went 8-3 in the 2002 season with a 5-1 conference record. Unfortunately, the Cats had several injuries to key players which could have led to a Bobcat downfall. When asked about the season, Senior Captain Tom Reichardt remarked, "We overcame a lot of adversity during the season which made it all that more special." The football team, led by the Seniors, were able to overcome these obstacles en route to another successful season. With big wins over Hartford Public at home and the Thanksgiving Day Game at Rockville, the Cats are looking forward to the 2003 season. The coaching staff is looking forward to seeing the underclassmen step up as the new leaders of the team. With the returning Juniors: Mike Panora and Mark Lines, on both the offensive and defensive front for the Cats, continued success is inevitable. With a third league title in sight and aspirations of a bid to the State Tournament, the Bobcats go back to work for the 2003 season.

Field Hockey

Continued Success

The Field Hockey team enjoyed continued success during the 2002 season. The Varsity Field Hockey team was ranked for six consecutive weeks as one of the top ten teams in the state. The team finished their season with an overall record of 10-2-2-1 and a conference record of 3-1. To top off the 2002 season, the Field Hockey team secured a State Tournament berth. Unfortunately, the 2-3 loss to Guilford in the first round ended the Bobcats aspirations of a state championship. One of the season highlights was the Bobcats 2-1 win over Fermi in overtime with no time remaining. Though they were a, "Young team that lacked Varsity experience," says Coach Kirkpatrick, the Field Hockey team still managed to have another outstanding season. With the losses of two All-State Players: Anne Rounce and Kim Niederwerfer, the Field Hockey team will need to have younger players step up and take charge of the team during the 2003 season. That should not be hard to do with the return of three All-Conference Players: Marianne Heldmann, Jessica Lane, and Rachel Hamilton. Coach Kirkpatrick says that her goals for the 2003 season are, "To win the CCC East and gain another State Tournament berth."

Another Great Year

To no one's surprise the 2002 Boys' Cross Country season was a huge success. Their success continues to grow as the years go on, while the possibilities for this program seem to be endless. They finished with an impressive overall record which put them in a close race for the CCC East title. At the CCC East meet they went 5-1, finishing in second place when all was said and done. In the Class L State tournament the success continued with a seventh place finish out of 21 teams. This great team was led by All Conference selections such as, Jeff Scranton, Jeff Spadaccini, and Tom Agostino, as well as some great senior leaders and competitive underclassmen. As always, we will be looking forward to the Bobcats 2003 campaign.

Girls' X-Country

They're Unstoppable

The South Windsor Girls' Cross Country program has been very consistent with their successful seasons, this year was no different. The 2002 team finished with an impressive 16-3 season and went 10-2 in the conference. This translated into a second place finish in a very competitive league. Even though the team only had one senior this did not stop them from being a top contender in the CCC East. The team was led by All Conference selections, Ali O'Brien, Erica Zornig, and Sarah Forzley. However, the rest of the team did great as well, as you can see by the team's success throughout the Cross Country season. Helping the Bobcat ladies in their success was Mr. Stoklosa, a great coach that everyone got along with. Throughout the season he was always positive and believed in his team no matter what the circumstances were. We are all looking forward to the outcome in the 2003 season.

Cheerleading '02

Dedicated

The Bobcat girls' cheerleading squad was very dedicated to their job this season. They cheered in the hot, rainy, and snowy weather which never seemed to affect their spirit and enthusiasm. The girls stayed positive when our teams were losing and motivated the players and the fans to assure them that a win was possible. Their inspiration is what led each person to contribute in a game whether it was the players or the fans. The cheerleaders are just as much a part of the outcome of the game as anyone else. The fans don't have to go to a game, the players don't have to play their best but the cheerleaders always have to motivate and be positive for everyone else, and that is what makes them so dedicated.

Girls' Volleyball

Continued Success

The girls were very successful this year with a 13-5-0 record. The main highlight of their season according to the coach was, "beating E.O. Smith 3-0 on senior night." Their first game against E.O. Smith was a 0-3 loss, and to come back the next game to shut them out shows the improvement of the team over the season. Some of the difficulties this season were the inexperience on the varsity team, however the team improved drastically and succeeded with a winning record. Coach Tina Holt was proud of all the players' sportsmanship and behavior on and off the court. According to the coach, "Our goals for next season are to improve our team record, possibly win the CCC title, and to continue to expect good grades, behavior, sportsmanship, and teamwork."

Another Successful Season

The Bobcat Boys' Varsity Basketball team finished their season with an overall record of 8-13 and fourth in the CCC East Conference with a record of 6-6. The team had great success this year with their clinch of a State Tournament playoff berth over their big win at Rockville. With a rowdy crowd behind them, the Cats beat the Rams twice this season, the last time ruining Rockville's Senior Night. Beating Rockville at their own game, the South Windsor fans stormed the court at Rockville after their big win. The Cats met Newtown in the opening round of the State Tournament. It was a close game, but Newtown was able to edge out a win over the Bobcats. Led by Team Captain, Kevin Kapisak, the Cats went back to the State Tournament for the fourth year in a row. With several key players returning as upper-classmen, the Cats are looking forward to another successful year in the 2003-2004 season and their return to the State Tournament.

Girls' Basketball

Determination Pays Off

The 2002-2003 season was another successful one for the Girls' Basketball Team. Led by Team Captains: Kelly Bakulski, Anne Rounce, and Kim Niederwerfer, the Cats finished their season third in the CCC East with a conference record of 8-4 and an overall record of 12-10. The Cats gained a State Tournament berth with their record, but their season came to an end after a heartbreaking loss to New Britain in the Tournament. One highlight from the season was the Cats' win over Glastonbury in overtime. However, perhaps an even greater season highlight was the Cats' buzzer-beater win against Wethersfield on Senior Night. The future for the Girls' Basketball program looks promising with the return of All-Conference Selection Selin Whitham. Some goals for the 2003-2004 season, says Coach Frascino, are to, "Win the CCC East and win a home State Tournament game and go to the quarterfinals at least." The Cats now go back to work during the off season looking forward to accomplishing all of Coach Frascino's goals and more.

Hockey

The Future Looks Promising

The 2002-03 Hockey season was full of ups and downs. Even though the Cats had a record of 4-16, they played hard. A lot of the games they lost could have gone either way. With only four seniors and a very young team, this year was thought to be a year of rebuilding. The team was led by All-Conference player Bill Hunt who was also the captain and a four year player for the Cats. Although this was not the season that they had hoped for, the Bobcats were able to get their most meaningful win in the electrifying home game against our rival Rockville in a close 6-5 intense battle. The Cats hope to use the experience that was gained from this year to work together and enhance the success of their team for many seasons to come.

Another Great Year

Moment of the Season

The Indoor Track team had another successful year. Due to the fact that the team had many returning participants, they were very experienced and self motivated. They knew what they had to accomplish day in and day out, and they did it without any complaints. The team also has a large number of underclassmen so the future looks promising for the team. The Bobcats girls' and boys' Indoor Track teams were very close and able to stick together. Their team unity helped them win many close races this year. Most importantly the team had a good time working together and is looking forward to another successful season next year. Talk about success, the girls' team won the CCC-East for the first time in school history, way to go girls.

Wrestling

A Season of Determination

The 2003 season was the best season the Cats have seen. The team was looking to compete. They were a very seasoned team that gave their all every day in practice, and put up a fight in every match. They had numerous wins against very tough teams such as Fermi and Amity. Senior Captain Nick Masi led the Bobcat's attack this season and played a big part in the winning season. John Keys has also had a big impact on the team, for he is the first South Windsor High School student to be undefeated in wrestling. Four of the team's players made All Conference for their hard work, Joel Jacques, Kyle McAlees, Nick Masi and Jon Keys. Although the Cats are losing five seniors, their determination and experiences of the season will continue to motivate the players of next season. The Cats will come out hungry as ever next year as we hope Joel Jacques, Bryant Reid, Jim Jachym, and Frank DiSimone will lead the team to victory.

Gymnastics

A Rebuilding Year

With the loss of five seniors, the Bobcats were looking to rebuild their team. Even though the Bobcats had a losing season, they overcame many ups and downs. The determination of each individual was the motivation needed to finish off the season. The team sustained many injuries which may have hindered their performance. However with the help of a new coach, SuEllen LaVigne, they were able to get past the injuries and help rebuild their formally successful team. According to the coach, one of the main challenges for herself and her team was, "just learning the whole process and coaching responsibilities." On a brighter note, the main highlight of the season was on senior night when the team broke the 130 mark against Hall. The future looks promising for the new coach and the new gymnasts.

To my friends thank you for teaching me to have a good time, even when I felt that I had too much to do, and for caring about me even when I didn't open up. Thank you Mom and Dad for teaching me so much about life. And thank you to Keith for giving me a little perspective in life. Always remember the Proms and senior receptions. The pit and marching band. Two silvers! The Wind trips. Who stole my penguin? Other clubs, and who can forget Recreation Basketball. Go Trojans! All of the Movie nights. Thank you Sarah and Andrew for being my other siblings. And Sage, playing in the driveway. A special thanks to Erin who always seemed to understand me, even when I didn't understand myself. And a final thank you to all of my teachers. Those that taught me school, but also about life. Good luck to everyone in the future.

When I stand back and look at all four years here, I realize all the great moments I had with friends, Prom, band, rec. ball, v-ball, tech, the musicals, Laurel, DMA. Marching band rocked, go two silvers and being Drum Major! The cold Thursday nights, shorts and T-shirts; all the way Garrett! We beat the cold and went for the Gold! It was all so much fun! Marching Band: SIH SIF SIL HandB, you know what to do! Mr. H: Thanks for the countless and unforgettable experiences; you're the best! Mr. Carlson: Thanks for the fun days at tech and understanding when I was in the pit, you're great. J'Row: Thanks for coaching v-ball and being a doll, you're awesome! Steph: I will never forget you; I always love you. Thanks to everyone who helped me and kept me going Mom, Dad, Matt, Brian, Aaron and all of my friends! I will never forget any of you! I love you all!

Thank you SWHS for some of the best years of my life. It's so much better than I could've ever imagined. Steve, shipman-continue to run the corp for me. Dan, sneakin on and tearin up the courses, Kinney birds, kid without a clue, driving layin down and infamous Christmas wish lists. Josh, in the whole scheme of things, I really didn't slaughter you, did I? A.J., Lakers have treated you a little too well, I want my money back! Stacey, thanks for being my strength when I need it and making every situation look brighter. As for the others, play on, what goes around comes around. For all that could've been, but never was, thanks. Greg, keep it real dawg. Tiff- word, you're the greatest! Mom and Dad- thank you for trying so hard, words can't describe how much you both mean to me. It isn't the end, fortunately, it's only the beginning. Peace, I'm out!

Katie Antolini

Megan you're my conscience, Chel, and Mandy since 1990. We have been through it all. I love you girls. Spotlights, ornaments, bikes, troublemakers forever. Double dates with Chris and Bri. I'll never forget the day it all started, in October of 2000 on Cambridge Road. It's been nothing but mayhem ever since. "Where am I? What am I doing here?" Ah Jomo. Obnoxious laughter, peaceful rides through East Windsor, and playscape nonsense. All the New Years, Jeff's, Johnny's. JSJN holdin it down, Mad parties at Zuba's, and insane tailgating. Prom (and some other very good times) with Christina. Me and Shonty battling reality on Data's fateful night. Special thanks to Nikole for all of our time together and putting up with me. Very special thanks to the CD burner crew for all the bugged out times we've had. These were easily the best four years of my life and I will never forget them.

Moving here from Bloomfield freshman year was the hardest thing. To all those who didn't judge and got to know the real me... much love. Touyen I just wanted to tell you how much our friendship means. You've been with me from day one, never once did you pass judgement on me. I hope our friendship can last this lifetime. Carolyn, now because of you the world seems so much crazier (in a good way). You've made these four years ones which I will never forget. Three girls who thought we had nothing in common now share a lifetime bond. Thank you guys! Nicki I can't forget you... you were our missing piece. (Danielle much love, Kelle and Amanda, love you two like you were my blood.) I dedicate this and everything to a woman without whom I'd be nothing. She's a best friend, role model, teacher and my strength. Thank you Mrs. Mealy. You helped discover the bright future ahead of me.. no words could describe what you mean to me. To my brother Jonathan, you're the best brother and friend anyone could ask for. Mom and Dad, the two greatest people with the biggest hearts. We've been through a lot but through it all you've made me stronger and believe in myself and for that I am grateful. It's the best feeling in the world to know you have parents who love and care for you as much as mine. And I'm spent.

High School has come and gone all too fast, and sometimes not fast enough. Cypress Hill once said There's gonna be another cat coming out looking like me sounding like me – but I realized in my life I didn't need to fake nothing about myself cause I didn't care what other people thought. Molleur- we go back real far, lots of intense times, thanks for making it worthwhile- boys for life. Jay- you're something else but it's been real. Wyny chillin at your house was always crazy. Boulay talking bout bumbs was always straight and Kerry if not for last year where would we be. Along the way plenty of insane parties, chillin everywhere, and deftones – best ever. To all the rest unnamed and crews- good times all the time. Thanks to my Mom and Dad for helping along the way. I'm out. This is the last note I'm sending you-Eminem.

These past four years have been amazing. I don't think I would have made it through without my best friend Chrissy and all of my other friends. I've had a lot of problems with people in this school most of it was pure drama. I've learned a lot over the years of being in this school. I realize it's not worth worrying about what other people think, just be yourself and people will like you for who you are. I've had so many great times with my friends, Prom 2002 and just chillin'. I have so many people that I'm going to miss when I graduate. I want to thank these people for helping me get through these tough but memorable years, love ya: Chrissy, Manda, Erik, Josh, Mike, Scottie, Emila, Justin, Lief, Kristin RIP '02, Mel, Ashley, Jen, Kel, Kathy, Katie, Willie, Mike K, Boulay, Tony, Kisha, and Mom and Dad. Life didn't seem so fast when I sat in endless classes watching the clock tick, second by second. I always wished the time would go faster, but now looking back, I wish I hadn't. I have been shaped by this time. Props to the youth group, my gym girls, code names, "chick nights," and secret languages, "the Prankstas," Prom and Homecoming '02, standing in circles talking. To my family that has supported me and cared for me even in my difficult moments, thank you. "Another ditch in the road, you keep moving. Another stop sign, you keep moving on. The years go by so fast. Wonder how I ever made it through." Kadee, the future is coming and I'll be there, I love you. All of my friends who have touched me, given me hope, faith, and helped me grow to who I have become today, thank you for being my saving grace. "For wherever there is laughter there is heaven."

I'm at a loss at what I should be writing here. I know that I'm going to be thanking my friends for making my years here livable, and helping me get through the harder times. Lita you're a lifesaver. You really helped me to get through these last two years here. Heather, we've fought, but we made it through everything still intact, so that's a good sign. Annabelle, guard was fun, but I'm not sure what happened to it this year. And to the guys, I don't know what to really say. Okay...running out of people to talk about and things to say. I would like to thank I... I'm not sure who. Julia who made my life interesting? But thanks to my friends, in and out of school. Couldn't have done anything without you guys! And to Mom, Dad and Kelly. Kelly I know that we fight, but I still love ya! And don't worry, I'll keep riding! Love ya all!

The end of the beginning of our lives is finally here, and so many things have happened these past couple of years. New York city was insane with Shawn and Shannon; maybe we should get stuck in elevators more often. Prom night was great at my house, even when I had to leave my own party to sleep for a lacrosse game. Lacrosse these past years has been great though. Mike, maybe you should have asked her if she had a boyfriend before spending the whole time at the club with her-Ocean City was great. I'm glad you've always been there for me Jen. Maybe we can get you down the mountain without hurting yourself. We may also get to the mountain without getting lost too-Laurie. What would I do without my headless angel, Whit? Too bad no frats were open when we visited Brian-Scott. Good luck everyone.

Billy thank you for being there for me. See you in the future. I love you. Always.

Here's to the last four years, the most important ones in my life. Freshman year cards, old time chillin with Eric and Dennis and getting into the game, playing Playstation 2, watching Half Baked over and over, and happy trail. Always remember hanging out, sleeping over and taking late night walks with Rocco and Ryan. Summer- Eminem concert, lost you guys, working the tobacco fields, Basketball games, going shot for shot numerous times. Friday after school runs and Canada snowboard trip. Many lessons learned, don't run red lights, make use of your trunk, and always have a lie ready, right Dan and Ryan? Pep-boys Dan and Todd, pool. Old times and new times, friendship with Christine. To my favorite twins, the Browns, please don't ever forget me. Thanks to my brothers and parents for keeping me in the right direction.

Justin Farr

It's been the best of times and the worst of times. These four years have been crazy. Chunk man that night with Ceejay and Monster Energy Drink, and an open road. Nothing will be better than that. You're a brother for life, man. Vinh, best friends, You don't have the best car. Bran you always gave me enlightenment, I'll never forget it. Walker...you're a crazy kid, don't go jackin' mini vans. Keith, domestic rice. Krissy and Chris, stay happy. To all my other friends, I'll never forget you. My brother and mom, words can't be expressed for the thanks and love I have for you. You've given me so much, and taken so much of my crap, I can't thank you enough. I'll always remember all the cars, all the shows, and all the good memories. "Cause in the end it's all you got, memories to tell your life, and how you lived it." — John Feldman.

Four years seems like a blur. To the class of 2003: I wish I could have gotten to know all of you and I wish you the best of luck in the years to come. Brandon, you've been a good friend and I'll see you around. Chris, Katie(s), Melissa, Jason, Ben, Jon, and everyone else, thanks for being around. There are a lot of things we could have done differently but there's nothing you can change but the future. Time is short but memories can last a lifetime. Like Woody Allen said, "Eighty percent of success is showing up." I guess that's why I got the grades I did...

Brittney Giberson

After all, "if these are the best days of our lives, shoot me now" I can't remember anything but the times that there was "nowhere else I'd rather be" and no one else I'd rather be with (because it would have been ok to die on that summer night eating a taco in the back of a convertible.) To those who have made me who I am: the crew Manchester, Tommy, Dennis, Mal, the Nicholas family, journalism crew, and softball girls, alas. Cans my future husband. Jim, Jes, Kathy all of Teddys, Nicky, Brian my one and only Paul, thank you. As for my yayas: Mal you are everything I wish I could be. I never thought this time would come, but it has. It's been an awesome four years at SWHS, full of happy memories, great people and good times. Hanging out with my friends, playing tennis, and playing in band have all created many cherished moments. However, the time has come for us to move on to new experiences, meet new people, have new adventures, and create new memories. But before I go, I would like to thank all of my friends for the fun we have had together. You know who you are and I will never forget you. Thank you to every one of my teachers. You have all helped me grow as a person and as a student. And last but not least, thanks Mom and Dad for being there when I needed you. Good luck to all in every future endeavor. Let the good times continue, and may the wind be always at your back.

The time hasn't passed quickly, it just seemed that way, so I suppose this is where I send my brief good-byes to end the story. One thing I can say for sure is that I'm glad I'm leaving. "This town don't feel mine I'm fast to get away." - Deftones. I know I'll see some people more than others as we scatter and stray into our own places in life, some people I'll see more in letters than in flesh, some in the streets or at a commonplace moment in time. Everyone hopes to travel, live, create, experience, achieve, love. I hope that everyone goes mad indulging in it all. I'll remember the people I shared time with, they know who they are. And to Brian, Chris til our fingers bleed, Krissy be good, Justin, Chunky, Mel, Meg, Val, Jenna, Vihn, Eric...Door Wide Open.

Needless to say, the past four years have been a blast. From the early days of Modern World parties and card nights to the later days of chillin and driving around aimlessly, the memories I've formed in SWHS will forever be a part of me: Shooting pool with Rosser and playing cards with the guys. Movie nights with Monie, Lawren, Caty and all the ladies. Front yard baseball, driveway basketball, and backyard football. Six Flags and swimming in the summer, sledding and snow football in the winter, and a little of everything in-between. Enforcing the power of the Trojans on the rec-ball scene. Late-night online conversations for no real reason.

And, of course, all the talks, drives and utterly amazing experiences I shared with Jenny. I walk the halls as the final piece of the Griffith trilogy in SWHS. Thank you to Pjer and Theo for always looking out for me and to Gallina and Pops for your endless support and love. Without it, I would never have become the person that I am today. I love you all.

High school has been a beach; soul mates' toes altogether in the sand. Watched the sunset and remembered the time. We've been to the bottom: came up and kept breathing. Kept each other warm when we got out of the water to dream on the blanket. Stars and poetry. Journals. Conversation like live music; hands altogether in song. Live nights after long days. Experience and rendering. Windows rolled down. Changing breezes. Laughter like water; stories like bread. Famous spirits inspire. Love across any distance. Yesterday Today Tomorrow. Eternally grateful for friends like a summer day. Memories roll like waves, forever. Holler.

It's finally over, and the four years have come to a close. I have so many great memories of this place, and of the friends I have made here. Soccer was a blast, and don't worry because the future is looking bright for you guys. Track was crazy. Skipping practice to have Water Gun fights and play basketball at my house. Prom weekend was awesome, and so was swimming in the ice cold water at Hammonasset. King of the raft at the lake, Mike you'll never win. Hanging out all summer '02 with the crew, and always finding something stupid to do. Shannon and Matt, the good times we had in NY. Stealing beds, and riding in the limousine through Times Square. As high school becomes but a memory, I realize that it's been four years that are gone forever, that I'll never have again. Oh well, my loss. Life goes on as if nothing really matters. Anyways, like a stoic takes his time, I have contemplated world domination and I'll see you all when I change it. Enough with the formalities, here comes those who deserve noteworthy mention: Rachel, Andy, Steve, Cristi (my sat crew) and many others. Abz, Nikki, Chelsea, Emily, Mike, etc. Highlights: Wapping Fair 02', Elm Knoll 02', NYC trip (slow vs. fast) 02', Washington Republicans Summer, Guns N' Roses Concert, Czerbinski Study Hall, Six Flags Summer, Lord of the Rings, London, AP Gov't (study hall). Hilarious Random Things: Mr. No-legs (power-walking and van speeding), battle of the v's, Mikhail and his bag o' trix, the balloon incident, blockbuster, media center mojo, extra help with English essays, "Tommy," big bertha, "slow and dirty like a school elevator," bread throwing, and many more explicit inside jokes. Pet Peeves: idiots, slow and bad drivers (pretty much all SWHS drivers!), old people monopolizing parking lots, democrats, liberals, etc. Left to SWHS: Rachel and Cristi (my sophomore following), and Abby. Ambition, megalomania, and humor are all worth it.

I just want to say this year has gone by fast and most of us are scared of what we are going to do. I have waited for what seems like forever but now I don't want it to end. I have had so many fun nights with friends, from parties, to just hanging out at night. Friday nights this year turned out to be the best nights I have ever had. Katie Sutton and I would go to the Webster for tons of fun. From the mosh pits we both went in, to the random times I came over her house to hang out. No matter what your high school "life" brings you, never wait to tell people how you feel. That's a life lesson I learned the hard way. Take time to hang out with friends and get closer to them than ever before, trust me you will always remember the times you had. I leave high school with a smile on my face, and all of the memories of my friends. Thanks for everything, I love you all.

What a ride it's been, but we finally made it. Don't conform; that'll be your one mistake. Who can forget all that we've created in the four years we've been here. It all comes down to this; now it's time to make something of ourselves. Chilling with the nonsense crew, bird sanc, nights in cars. Power hour, scary rides home, 311. Four long years of lax and putting up with all those bruises. Rides up north were great. I'll never forget summer '02. Tyna, I will never forget you. You'll always have a spot in my heart throughout everything. You've taught me so much that I would have never learned without you. Have fun the rest of your high school career, it goes by too fast. I love you. I could never have survived without my parents who have been there through thick and thin even when they didn't want to be. Everybody, live it up... #2 out.

Thank you to my family for being there to support me, even if I did not always appreciate it. "toaster" "toast"

My name is Ryan, my boys call me Toast
It's the name they prefer to call me the most
School would be nothing without my friends
Who have thought we would all make it to the end?
Not me Matt Kyle Data Blank and Mike
And some of the kids I don't even like
The time has come to be released from what we call jail
Four years spent, piercing our memory like a nail
To my mom, a lady who's been through it all
Even strong enough to catch her own fall
I can't forget the man of the house, my dad
When things are at their worst, he makes me glad
Tyler and Ashley and I all have the same blood
Nothing can wash that away, not even soap sud
Keri Mae, sweet as 11 pies
I don't forgive myself for telling you lies
I can't forget to mention some others
Like Chel, Nicole and my Dan Nelsen Crew brothers
If anyone I forgot is let down
Please forgive me, I will see you around

Honestly the only real people that I can truly thank is my family, my friends, and yes even my dog. I know that I probably came off as a totally mean person, but I really don't care what anybody thinks. I only learned that if you want something done, don't be afraid to ask for help. Meg and Kev, you guys are the best. I have probably shared the most fun with you two, and thanks. Fun times at my house, Mario Tennis! And thank God for japanamation! Jay and Eric, everything comes together in the end. G.S.A crew, you guys are the best. Mal, you are probably the best thing that has happened to me, thank you from the bottom of my heart.

700 characters doesn't seem like enough room to sum up four great years at South Windsor High School, but here it goes. High school has been great. Four years of hanging out with friends (you know who you are), working hard, having fun, and learning a bit along the way. It's been good. It's tough to pick out the highlights, but what stands out the most are the field trips to New York, goofing off in AP Government, lunchroom conversations, birthday-grams with Art, team dinners, Friday nights and the tennis team. I'd like to thank my family for being there for me in the good times and the bad, and helping me to become who and what I am today. Also, I'd like to thank my teachers for helping me along the way as well. So one last time, thanks to my family, friends, teammates and teachers...I couldn't have done it without you.

Four years went by so fast; some great times with all my friends. If I were to do it over again, I wouldn't change a thing. The Jeep; too much time, too much money, too much frustration, but mostly way too much fun. Parties that I don't remember, but I will never forget. Driving to Mansfield if all else failed. Cold bonfires in Stafford. Hill climbs in Monson. Working on anything and everything with Hilton. Chillin' in Newport with Bak, Brodie and Alex. Kara, we looked so good at prom. Cross Country was tough but it was worth it in the end, senior year was awesome. Thanks to all the smart kids that got me through my classes. Italy- the craziest best trip ever. Kim you mean so much to me, I'll always be there for you. Thank you to all my teachers, parents and friends for everything you've given me. Remember, this is just the beginning. I'm out.

Wow, I can't believe my high school years are over. It seems like only yesterday I was walking around as a freshman with a backpack bigger then I was. First, I want to wish all my underclassmen friends good luck in the rest of their high school career and with their college searches. Never forget all the great times you had here. I know I will always remember the plays and of course the cast parties, dances, and everything in between. To Kate, "It wasn't me, it was the magical theater guppies." Garrett, I want to thank you for everything you have done for me. You have helped me more than you'll ever know, I can never say thank you enough. Greg, try not to get into too much trouble while I'm gone. And finally, Mom and Dad, you have given me everything I could have ever wanted, you have always been there for me. I will love you forever.

For the enablers. Birthdays at Friendly's and flicks in East Windsor. Like the matrix and and others with Gandalf the Wizard. Fight nights that felt right and jumping down sand hills, left bruises and bumps which were eased by the pain pills. So many memories of times all been lost, 90s and fireworks we've tossed. For both of the Tony's those times we would skate. Building that fun box at his house so late. Of Airsoft Oh Airsoft, the sport which we chose. The Warehouse and Junkyard and nights when we froze. Activities: Football 1-4, Baseball 1-4, Basketball 1-2. When I look back, 1999 seems so long ago, yet the years went by so fast. The first field goal try freshmen year, coming up 7 points short of a state playoff berth against EO Smith and all the yards and catches in between. Super Bowls we watched on his big screen (especially the Patriots beating the Rams). Mallory, thanks for everything. The time I popped the stickball at recess, the time Tom broke JE's hockey stick at my birthday party, The Whalers games with JE, the wiffleball homer I hit off his head and pitching to Downs until he hit one on my roof. Travel soccer, travel basketball and receiving all those yellow cards and technical fouls.

In my four, forever lasting years as a high school student, I have learned two important ideas. There are geniuses in this world, and I am not one of them. I will never remember the amount of work I had to do in order to establish myself as a student, but will not forget the fun times I had while slacking off. Too many friends have come and gone. Those of you that have stuck around, you know the good times we've had. Thanks to Fitz for making life exciting. Brent, Win, for always being cool. To Sam, your parties are always fun; you've got to relax. Everyone at lunch, you guys are crazy. Inner circle drama will hopefully be forgotten. Sanderson, you the man, that is all that needs to be said. Brad, you're the most original kid I know. Your van owns. To everyone left out, you're not forgotten, I just ran out of room to...

Sean Ruegg

Just yesterday, I was wondering how life would be after TE, yet, we are once again being forced to move on. For as much as we complain about having nothing to do in South Windsor, there sure were plenty of great times: At the movies, Xtreme bowling, randomly hanging out at people's houses, prank calls to hotels, joyriding, Rec Ball, Maine '02, and of course, the prom. I'd like to thank all the people that have been there for me-It's been a great time with you all. Thanks to my family for all the support that they brought, and thanks to all my teachers-especially my first teachers from PRS-you taught me more about life than any math or grammar lesson possibly could have. To my sister, entering SWHS-enjoy every day...they go by quickly.

Erik SandersonSandmonkey*

Ambition is to live your life to the fullest and have no regrets. High school has gone by as a blur, but there are memories and friends that I won't forget. Bobby, you were always there for me brother, to have good times; having the sky fall on us, sleeping out in Derek's yard. Jay, you have been like a brother to me; Myrtle Beach, the cinderblock. E-Dub with John and Matt. Cara: we had our share of differences but I will still miss you. Slip and slide with Parsons. The days of Dom, West, Kevin, and Jay. The goldfish trick, the trashcans, my room doors, I'm not throwing that tape out. Brittany, Nikol, Bri, Domi, Baker, Brad, Dan, Stacey, Keys, and Parsons, I'm going to miss you all. I wouldn't be where I am today without the help of my Mom, Dad, and bro. I love all of you! So to those that said that I wouldn't make it, I did, and I have no regrets.

William Wetherbee Santoro

First of all I would like to say thank you to my mother. You have been my strength when I was weak and my eyes when my vision was clouded. I owe my life to you. Also nothing is possible without God. My path has just begun. Guide me I love you. Thank you. To my grandmother, though you are not in your physical form I know you are with me. I was once told graduating was like dying so let's prove they were lying. 4As you will never leave my mind. From the true friends I can trust to the infantile relationships filled with lust-I will never forget you. For the past 4 years I've made memories just to list in this small space- yet I'd have to write a novel if this were the case. So where exactly should I begin, the times we laughed cried or sinned? I don't know where I should start- I'll probably remember all of it once I depart. Jaime you mean more to me than you will ever know, I've cherished your laughter whenever I put on a show. Tanya you're the sister I've always wished for and never in my life could I ask for more. Shauna, MegX2, Kristen, Jess, Chel, Rach, Mayra, Nicole, and TT- all the crazy nights to the insignificant silly fights each of you have individually influenced my life and to every guy who sat with me to answer my mystifying why- you'll be remembered till the day I die. Mom-forever it will just be us two, always know that I love you...Schooly Woolly BLAH. That's finished..

"I've had the time of my life...and I owe it all to you." Life is made of moments- these are the ones that I'll remember but where to begin? Those 9, showerless, wonderful canoeing days in Minnesota, Prom and Wickham Park. Our day at Sugarloaf and the corn maze. Working at CVS- quite an experience in itself. Learning that bellybuttons call to me- especially those hybrids. All the concerts, getting kicked in the head, 104 Fest. Camping with my family every year- I love those trips. The great volleyball season, yeah seniors! The countless sleepovers, girls night. But most of all, what I love most are the people that I have shared these moments with. You're our 1st born son. You've made us very proud! You have a great sense of humor and shining personality. When you were little, people would come up to me and tell me what a great kid you were and how special and kind you were to everyone. Well, now you're done with high school. I'd hoped this day would never come because it means you're leaving us to go to college. Just remember if there's ever a problem and you can't fix it, then move on and don't let it get you down, you're not that type of person. Something good will eventually happen to help you forget those problems. Remember how excited you were when you got your acceptance letter to PENN STATE? Well, you forgot the problems you were having at school. You're persistent Ted, you will be the best at whatever you choose to do in life. We know that for sure! Remember we all love you very much and we'll always be a phone call away wherever you are! We only wish the best for you and don't forget to make grandma proud.
